

Do Fellowes mouse pads / wrist rests contain latex?

Last Modified on 12/11/2018 11:24 am CST

Our Crystal gel products are made entirely from polyurethane, and are latex free. While latex is not intentionally added to the product, it is not made in a clean room environment. Meaning, we cannot guarantee small amounts of cross contamination.

Latex comes from natural rubber. Polyurethane is petroleum based and includes no natural rubber. The gel on our keyboard managers and fabric covered gel products include a lycra/neoprene cover which in some cases is made from dry natural rubber. All natural rubber contains trace levels of latex and should be avoided by those with extreme sensitivities to trace amounts.
